Thornton Creek Commons is a new, premium, gated 'pocket neighborhood' located in vibrant NE Seattle's Pinehurst neighborhood. Nine, newly constructed Built Green 5-Star/Net Zero 3 or 4 bedroom, high performance homes form the community, clustered on a 2 ½ acre property. Stroll 3 blocks along tree-lined streets to shopping, dining, post office, library, grocery, hardware, bakeries and brew pubs plus convenient transit options. Walk score = 78. The community is located a short walk to the new Sound Transit Light rail stop at NE 130th Street, opening in 2026 and minutes away from the region's major technology, health care, medical and hospital employment centers.

Reminiscent of pre WWII 'bungalow courts', homes cluster on approximately 1 acre of the community. An additional 1 ½ acres of permanently preserved open space bordering Thornton Creek forms an exclusive, arboretum-like private park for the community of home owners. Amenities include a fenced, off-leash dog park, fire pit, gardens, walking trails and access to picturesque Thornton Creek.

The gated, secure, 'pocket neighborhood' features three custom designed, artfully crafted floor plans that range from 1583 to 2360 square feet and provide options for single level living, work from home flexibility, multigenerational and 'lock and leave' lifestyles. Six of the nine homes feature large, studio apartment sized 'flex' spaces with separate entry and include private baths, laundry, and kitchenette, enabling true mother-in-law, multi-generational livability. Custom architecture by Wenzlau Architects.
